Dear all,

During these challenging and uncertain times it is ever more important to share our messages to try to put things in context and avoid panic. As Dr. Tedros, DG World Health Organization said, "This is the time for facts, not fear. This is the time for science, not rumors. This is the time for solidarity, not stigma. We are all in this together".

Please find attached the latest data we have gathered and relevant information on the COVID-19, including links to the most up to date forecasts and scenarios in terms of the potential impact of the current crisis. As you will see, WTTC has been actively sharing its key messaging to the media.

We hope you find this information useful and please don't hesitate to get in touch should you have any questions or comments.

Best regards,

Lola
